Rector's message

This year Bechet College not only celebrates twenty years of existence but also the progress that has been made over the period. Since an article in this brochure is devoted to the history of the establishment, I think that my message should deal with the present and what is contemplated for the future.

During the early years the institution was essentially a high school with the teacher training section as an appendage. However since the College is virtually responsible for "teacher supply" for all the Natal schools under the Administration, the demands on the training college section have increased, with the result that only 34% of the accommodation is now utilised by the High School. The complete physical separation of the two sections has been a cherished ideal – we are all convinced that this would be to the advantage of both pupils and students.

The staff has been described as young and relatively inexperienced. But professional dedication, sincerity and enthusiasm have compensated very satisfactorily for the 'deficiencies of youth'. The staff of this college has a privilege which is accorded to very few – the opportunity to influence the entire teaching profession and indeed the general standard of education in our Natal schools. Every student is a potential emissary. However we are also fully aware of the concomitant responsibility.

In the technological era with its rapidly changing systems of values, greater demands are made on the teacher to undertake the mentor duties which were assumed by the parents and even the Church. It is our responsibility given the appropriate material, to mould and equip the young teachers to meet challenges which we actually cannot predict or define with certainty ourselves. We are however convinced that education must be viewed as being far more than mere schooling and training in the academic techniques. With the waning influence of the traditional socialising agencies, teachers will be responsible also for the "humanising process". Thus social work, as it is now known, cannot remain the preserve of those who are specifically trained therefor. It is obvious that the staff members will be faced with a task of increasing complexity and magnitude, but in this respect our youth and flexibility will be our greatest asset.

I wish to humbly record my very sincere appreciation of the tremendous spirit of co-operation which exists at the College. The progress that has been made can be attributed to the harmony and unity of purpose which is evident in the relationships between the community, pupils, students and staff.

Dr. H.P. Van Coller

Act. CHIEF INSPECTOR OF EDUCATION.

MESSAGE

The world in which we live imposes great demands on every individual. For this reason it is necessary that the youth should be prepared and equipped with the responsibilities that will confront them.

Because the world is progressing rapidly and constantly changing, education and teaching cannot remain static. The educational system is continually being replanned, adapted and extended to keep pace with changing circumstances and to conform with the demands imposed.

In this process of adaptation, renewal and extension, teacher-training is in the vanguard. Even though we have the most effective teaching facilities, buildings and equipment, a lack of well-trained teachers will nullify the effect of these advantages, and the educational process will not be advanced.

A good teacher is worth his weight in gold. It is thus the task of training colleges and institutions to produce good teachers. It is a priceless investment for our people.

Bechet College is commemorating its twentieth anniversary this year, and celebrations will be held.

We survey the proud record of this College with appreciation because it has done sterling work in the past and contributed significantly to our schools.

It is a privilege for me, on behalf of the Administration of Coloured Affairs, to express our gratitude and appreciation to all who were connected with this institution and to the men who are still rendering service. We bring tribute to those who have worked here as well as to their predecessors.

We wish to extend our congratulations to the Rector, lecturers and students on the occasion of this milestone in the history of the College. We wish to express our gratitude for the dedicated loyalty with which you have tackled your task. May there be many years of prosperity ahead and may you go from strength to strength.

Our best wishes go with you on the life work that you have chosen.

MESSAGE FROM PROF. J.H. BEKKER, CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT ADVISORY BOARD

It is appropriate with the celebration of the 20th Anniversary of Bechet College to view these years of achievement not only in terms of what has been achieved, but also as the establishment of a precedent for future generations.

During this time the College has grown from small but hopeful beginnings into an institution with a specific and valued purpose. It has achieved the respect of all who have served it and the gratitude of those whom it serves. More than this though it has become a symbol of a better future not only for those who have been tutored there but for those whom they in turn now tutor.

Anniversaries are a time for celebration; a time for pride in achievement and satisfaction in what has been achieved, but they are more than this; they are also a time for reflecting on the great responsibility that there is for those who come after inheriting a tradition such as this.

I regard myself as most privileged to be able to congratulate Bechet College on this festive occasion and on the publication of this brochure. May I express my gratitude and pride in all that has been achieved and offer my very best wishes for an even greater future.

EDITOR'S NOTE: On the 9th June 1975, Dr. L.I. ROBERTSON was elected Chairman of the JOINT ADVISORY BOARD.

FROM THE FIRST PRINCIPAL OF BECHET COLLEGE,
Mr. N.P. Ingle

I am delighted to have this opportunity of extending my very best wishes to Bechet College on the occasion of this Anniversary. My mind goes back to those days when some of us watched these buildings going up and then spent much of the Christmas holidays organising the transfer of everything from Umbilo Road and making ambitious plans. The Director of Education for Natal asked for suggestions as to the name of the College and that proposed by the Staff and myself was accepted. Improvements followed fast and I was asked if, besides the Natal Teachers' Senior Certificate Course, we could manage the Natal Teachers' Diploma Course. Since we had many outstanding teachers, Miss Gutridge, Miss Fannin, Miss Glasse, the late Professor Allsopp, Mrs Dunster, Mr Morphew, the late Mr. Clarke and many others, I strongly recommended the proposal and a course of this nature has been held ever since then. It is particularly pleasing to me to note that many of the students from the early days now provide the backbone of the teaching profession in this Training College and the Coloured Schools of Natal, from the worthy Rector of Bechet College to the principals and staffs of many prominent schools in Natal. One of the greatest pleasures in my life was the wholehearted support I received from members of my Staff and this kind of co-operation continues. That spirit not only benefits individuals but benefits the whole of our Country. In a world full of trouble, we need harmony not strife and the tremendous advance that has been evident in Bechet College in the last twenty years is due to toil and harmony. My earnest wish is that all concerned with this College will crown success with greater successes.

MESSAGE FROM MR. P.H. BESTER
Former Rector of Bechet College

When I joined the staff of Bechet College in 1961 as one of the first two official lecturers in the Training College, (Mr. Hans Sauer was the other), the main emphasis was on the High School, with a comparatively small number of T.C. students. During the ten years of my association with the College, I saw the Training College developing and growing in a bid towards becoming independent of the High School: a Training College with all the necessary buildings and training facilities.

This ideal has not been fully realised yet, but I am sure that the achievement of this overdue goal, will not be long delayed.

The value of a good teacher can never be assessed in terms of money. They are priceless. Thinking back over the years I am reminded of the many first class teachers, both men and women, which Bechet has turned out to the Education of the children placed under their care. The impact of their contribution to the cause of education cannot be overrated. I salute them! I also salute those who, during the past decade have been instrumental in training them.

I shall always cherish the memory of my happy association with Bechet, and it is my fervent hope and prayer that the College will continue to grow, fulfilling its all important function in this Community.

Finally I wish Mr. and Mrs. Rampono, the staff and students of Bechet College every success and happiness in the years to come.

Editorial

The corner-stone of Bechet College was laid on 28th May 1955, and the institution has now reached its Twentieth Year of existence which marks the end of teething troubles of its infancy. In this time many people – staff, students and pupils walked through the portals of Bechet and left some mark or the other. Some advanced the development of this institution – the seat of education. Others, no doubt, gained academically, culturally and spiritually. We may be justly proud of Bechet College from the time of its inception. Many have been helped to a fuller life, having increased their knowledge, developed their talents, prepared themselves for their various professions during their stay at Bechet College. Somewhere in this Brochure an attempt is made to show the achievements of some of the ex-students and pupils.

Our sincere thanks go to the past Principals and staff who guided the College along its road of sound development to its present position among the educational institutions of our Country. The duty of maintaining this successful trend now falls on the present Rector, staff, students and pupils. It is incumbent on them to dispel all scepticism about their ability “to strive, to seek, to find and not to yield”.

Bechet, like South Africa, stands on the threshold of a new era in a changing world; and it is the duty of the educationists to prepare the individuals for change. The emphasis of education falls more and more on the importance of social behaviour, social relationship and the improvement of human relationship in their entirety. It is hoped that this College will not lag in educating its charges to be actively involved in change. They should be led to know their abilities, be encouraged to work for better human relationship, and be fitted to take their place in the great Society of equality and brotherhood following in the footsteps of the greatest teacher, Jesus Christ.

On the practical side, students teachers could be encouraged to serve on youth organisations such as Boys Scouts, Girl Guides, Boys Brigade and others to help in the formation of character and to gain knowledge in organisation. They could also serve in organisations such as Welfare Societies, Blind Society, Benevolent and Cripple Care Bodies and so gain personal knowledge of the conditions under which some children grow up. They could assist in alleviating their position and improving their environment.

In conclusion I wish to thank those who have contributed articles for the Brochure; the Editorial Staff and last but not least, all whose who so readily provided advertisements and sponsorship.

The Editor.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Almost 51 years ago (1st September 1924) a small school was opened in an area so far removed from the inhabited areas of town that the school was surrounded by dense bush on three sides – the fourth side was bounded by a roughly hardened road that also carried tram tracks. There were 48 pupils, ranging from Class I to Std. VI, who used the tram service to and from the school. Miss E.S. Paton was the first principal of the school viz. Umbilo Road Primary School and she had 5 teachers to assist – an enviable staff-pupil ratio. There were only 3 other schools for Coloured children viz. Melbourne Rd. (Bulley's school) St. Augustines and Albert Street. An amazing extract from the records of that era show that on 2nd December 1927 the school held a concert in the Mutual Hall, Moore Road and the professed objectives thereof were “to advertise the school and to acquire funds for library books.” The financial statement read:

realised	£7	9s	6d
rent of hall	£1	10s	0d
printing of tickets		10s	0d

I wonder how many readers can remember the Mutual Hall, or that 10s is the monetary equivalent of R1. As a matter of interest, the printing of invitations for our recent Speech Evening cost R61.50.

On 5th August 1930 Miss Paton was succeeded by Mr. France Joseph Bechet. He was obviously a man of determination and ambition. On August 22nd he noted, “Every effort should be made to secure pupils for the higher classes...” The wheels of progress ground not “slowly but surely” – but surely and rapidly, for on 2nd November 1931 R. Crowley, G. Goldstone, and H. Cochrane entered for a “practice teaching” examination. There are very few who are not aware of the significance in the teaching world of at least two of these names and the contribution that they have made to education.

Mr. Bechet served the school for 17 years until his retirement in December 1947 when he handed over to Mr. J.B. Colam who became principal of Glenwood High School in 1953. In July of that year Mr. N.P. Ingle took office.

In the early hours of 1st February 1955 three hundred and seventy seven pupils and students nervously searched the roads of Sydenham for the new school — Bechet High School and Training College as it was then called. "The builders were still in the building and equipment and desks had not all arrived" and so the pupils were dismissed early. However the double decker buses serving the pupils of the Greenwood Park, city and Durban South areas had not arrived and so the pupils had to walk to town.

The training college section was very small — (38 students). They followed a course which can be equated with the present L.P.T.C. In the following year twelve students were enrolled in the first post-matric teachers' course viz. the Natal Teachers' Diploma. The late, well-loved, Mr. A.H. Allsop joined the staff in that year as well.

Even in those early years Bechet had an accommodation problem, for the N.T.D. students had to use the projection room above the hall as a lecture room.

On the 20th and 21st September 1957, the seed of the Music Festival movement was sown when six Durban schools used the College Hall to stage their first presentation.

Successful activity during the early period included: the production of the Merchant of Venice in 1959, the construction of the tennis court in 1960; a consistently high success rate of between 80% — 90% in the "public examinations" for each of the first ten years; an outstanding sports record and on the evenings of 18th, 20th and 21st September 1963 the highly successful and memorable presentation of the Cavalcade of Arts. The 19th September was omitted because on that evening the Musical Festival Association used the College premises for a dress rehearsal only, because the organisation had then "graduated to the City Hall."

In December 1963 Mr. Ingle handed the office to Mr. G.V. Arthur, and was able to view his ten and a half years as principal with pride and satisfaction.

Three months later the administration of the College passed from the Natal Education Department to the Coloured Affairs Department.

In July 1968 Mr. G.V. Arthur retired and Mr. P.H. Bester assumed the duties of Rector. In January 1960 he had joined the staff as a lecturer. Later he was promoted to Senior Lecturer.

During the ensuing period the training college department expanded rapidly and the college began to function as two separate institutions viz. Bechet Training College and Bechet High School.

In 1973 Mr. D.L. Rampono assumed office on Mr. Bester's retirement.

The College has expanded since the introduction of the third year courses in 1969. At present the third year specialist directions offered are Academic, Infant, Music and Needlework. Physical Education for males is offered up to second year level. Hereafter students have proceeded to Hewat Training College where they have brought distinction to themselves and our College. Whereas the training college section was a minority appendage to the institution in 1969, it has of necessity developed to the extent where the High School section is restricted.

In 1970 the College introduced a third year academic course on a part-time basis. The heartening implication of this innovation has been the encouragement which it gave to graduates hereof to continue their academic pursuits to higher levels.

It is hoped that with the introduction of the proposed resource centre, the increase in size and scope of the library, and the institution of the language laboratory, the College will serve as an educational centre for registered students as well as teachers and the community in general.

THE 'COLOURED' TEACHER

ON TRIAL

by Mr. D.M. Bruce

Inspector of Education

Teaching in Coloured Schools in Durban was undertaken solely by Whites until shortly before the Second World War when the first Coloured teachers were employed in Durban at the Clairwood Primary School. By the late 1950's all Primary Education instruction in Durban was in the hands of Coloured teachers. The entire Coloured teaching force of Natal was then in the region of 300.

When it opened, Bechet College provided the only High School facilities for Coloureds in Durban as the Umbilo Road School had become a Primary School. I was accorded the honour of being the first Coloured teacher to be appointed to the staff of Bechet College on 1st October 1957. The total teaching force of the High School and Training College sections was then approaching thirty.

I represented the Coloured Teacher on trial. I was told by a senior official of the Natal Education Department that my success or failure would determine the future staffing of Bechet.

"Are they ready yet?" This was the question currently asked. (The same question is still being asked today in other fields of our social and political life). I was the guinea-pig who was to determine this. I, like a number of other teachers had the necessary qualifications, but there was still much scepticism as to our "readiness".

The vacancy on the staff had been created by the retirement of the standard seven Afrikaans teacher. Hence my initiation to Bechet was as a teacher of Afrikaans. This was my challenge. I had no choice, lots of misgivings, but was determined to show the worth of our teachers. I thus set about my task "with a will."

I had my own little staffroom at the back of the hall and a separate toilet. This, I was told, was determined by "the law of the land". I was permitted, however, to enter the White staffroom on occasions such as those when staff meetings were held.

Staff relations were far from strained despite this. Three members of the staff had actually taught me when I attended the Umbilo Road High School; another had taught me in standard four when I was transferred from Melbourne Road School to Umbilo Road. The staff comprised such respected educationists as the late Professor Allsopp (affectionately known to the students as "Pop") and the late "Nobby" Clark (who proved that Mathematics was not such an impossible subject) and many others.

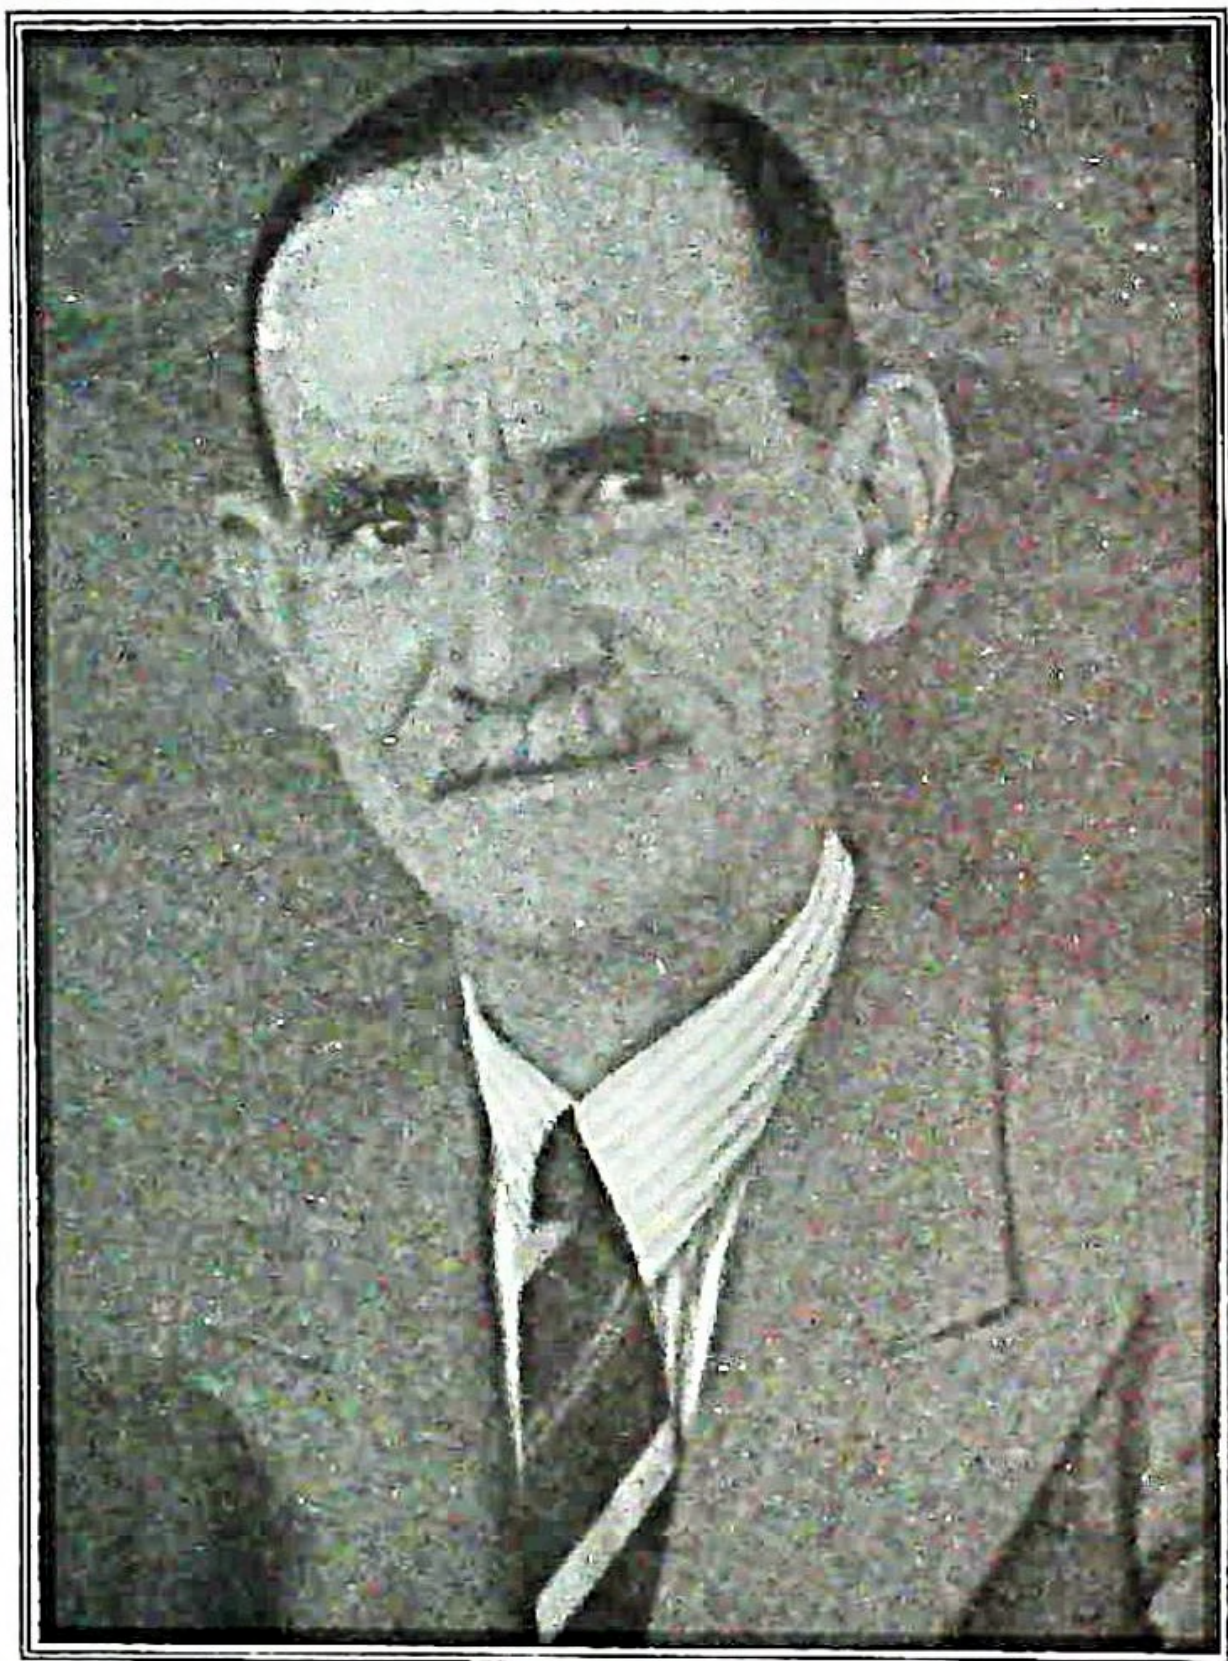

What of the pupils I had to teach? Herein lay the key to my success — for success the "experiment" certainly proved to be. The pupils realised what the challenge and its implications were; they did not have to be told. Their reaction was spontaneous and more than half my battle was won.

My pupils' results in the examinations were very pleasing. The Good Book states that "by their fruits they shall be known". In this respect the pupils did not let me down. They, if anything, proved the point — whatever that may mean.

It was some months later that Mr. Robert Green joined the staff as the second Coloured teacher, and when I left on promotion in 1961 many more Coloureds had joined the staff.

A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF FRANCE JOSEPH BECHET

Armed with paper and pen we breezed into the residence of Mrs. Jean Bechet, daughter-in-law of the late France Joseph Bechet, founder of our College. We interviewed his two daughters-in-law and showed surprising journalistic potential.

France Bechet came to South Africa in 1911. He was born in Mauritius on 30th December 1887. He married Lydie O'Reilly and had three children all of whom are deceased. In South Africa they settled in Durban and he taught at Umbilo High School where he later became principal.

It was during his principalship that the lack of training institutions for prospective teachers became obvious to him. The fact that there were no Coloured teachers to teach in the schools, was the chief motivation of his persistent nagging at the Natal Education Department to erect an institution to provide teacher-training facilities for Coloureds.

He retired from Umbilo on the 12.12.47 and was awarded a cheque which he returned on the ground that it should be used as a bursary fund for students. He died on the 18th October 1949 and it was only 5½ years later that his wish came true with the erection of a Training College in 1955. To commemorate the part played by him in the election of the College, it was named Bechet Training College.

Apart from being involved in the educational field he was also a lover of recreation. He was an avid horse-racing fan, loved listening to the radio and reading. He was also linguistically inclined and could speak several languages – French, Greek and German. On arrival in South Africa he taught himself Afrikaans.

With the celebration of the College's twentieth anniversary our thoughts went back to the man who was not here to share in the festivities, the founder, France Joseph Bechet.

What a Wonderful World!

The world of a family confident in what the future holds for them, enjoying the sunshine of security and the certainty of belonging.

For 130 years, the Old Mutual's one concern has been for the future of the thousands of South African families to whom it belongs and for whom it exists.

There's a world of confidence waiting for you and your family from the day you put Old Mutual security to work for you.

HERDENKING VAN DIE ONTSTAAN VAN BECHET

Op 28 Mei 1955 is die hoeksteen van Bechet Kollege gelê. Nou, twintig lange jare later, vier ons die Kollege se twintigste verjaardag.

As deel van die bedrywighede vir die feesviering van hierdie belangrike gedenkdag, het die kollege se organiseerders met 'n sprankelende idee voor die dag gekom. 'n toespraakaanbieder is gereël. Talle mense is uitgenooi; en gewese leerkragte en oud-studente het die dag saamgedrom. Naastenby 500 mense het in die feesviering kom deel. Ongelukkig kon die kollege se betreklike klein saal nie so 'n menigte behartig nie, dus moes sommige van die uitgenooi-des in die koshuis gehuisves word waar daar vir die besondere geleentheid geslote kring beeldradio geïnstalleer is. Supima Elektroniese Maatskappy het hiervoor gesorg. Doenighede op die verhoog is op die wyse tot die koshuis oorgedra, en sodoende teleurstelling onder die uitgenooi-des voorkom. Boonop is ons die geleentheid gegun om vir die eerste keer op beeldradio te verskyn.

Om 7.30 daardie aand was mense nog steeds aan die kom en teen 7.45 was die saal al stampvol. Die geesdrif en vrolikheid wat onder die gaste geheers het, het alle twyfel aan 'n suksesvolle aand uit die weg geruim. Die sukses van die aand is gemeet aan die ongelooflike wyse waarop die mense reageer het.

Mnr. Simpson het in sy hoedanigheid as sere-monie-meester die byeenkoms amptelik geopen. Eers het hy die sprekers eregaste aan die gehoor voorgestel. Daarna het hy eerwaarde Langlois tot die mikrofoon gestel. Laasgenoemde het 'n hart-roerende gebed opgesê. Die aand sou eentonig ver-loop het, was dit nie vir ons kollege kore wat beurtelings daverende applous uitgelok het nie. Die opleidingskoolkoor was eerste aan die beurt onder leiding van mej. Simpson. Die stuk "Lift thine eyes" van Mendelssohn het hulle pragtig gelewer.

Na luide applous het mnr. Simpson die eerste spreker van die aand, Prof J.H. Bekker, voorsitter van die Gesamentlike Raadgewende Raad, aan die gehoor bekend gestel. In 'n kort, maar wel kragtige toespraak het hy onder andere verwys na die rol wat Bechet in die gemeenskap speel. Weer eens het die gehoor entoesiasies toegejuig.

Die Hoërskoolkoor het toe die lied "Fill the world with Love" gesing. Die gehoor het gespanne gesit en luister na die lied wat die leerlinge so mooi geharmonieer het. 'n Geesdriftige toejuiging het nogmaals die stilte geskeur.

Hierna het mnr. N.P. Ingle, die eerste hoof van Bechet Kollege, stelling voor die mikrofoon ingeneem. Hy was teenwoordig toe die eerste steen van die gebou in 1955 gelê is. Mnr. Ingle het staps-gewyse en kategoriees vertel van die kollege se ontwikkeling deur die jare, van die dae toe die kollege maar net vyftig studente kon behartig. Hy het verder uitgewei oor die rol waarin dié inrigting die gemeenskap op opvoedkundige en kulturele gebied dien. Sy toespraak het ongetwyfeld groot indruk gewek, want die gehoor het hul waardering daarvoor met luide applous te kenne gegee.

Die lied "I am the Phoenix" van Vecchi is hierna deur die opleidingskollege-koor onder leiding van mnr. Simpson gesing, gevolg deur 'n toespraak van die huidige Rektor, mnr. Rampono. Laasgenoemde, in sy indrukwekkende toespraak, het die gehoor laat besef dat 'n kollege nie alleenlik die studente akademies uitrus nie, maar dat dit ook 'n inrigting is waar persone met verskeie ambisies byeenkom om later langs verskeie weë in die sosiale lewe uiteengaan om hul medemens te dien.

Mej. Goldstone, presidente van die Studente Verteenwoordigenderaad het almal hartlik bedank. Hier moet ek sê dat sy werklik die gehoor se harte gesteel het. Sy het nie eers haar toespraak vooraf voorberei nie, maar tog het die woorde spontaan gevloei – veelsgeluk.

Mnr. Jacobs se agtermekaar organisering en leiding het dit vir die gaste moontlik gemaak om die studente se uitstallings op hul gemak te gaan aanskou. By die uitstallings self het die betrokke studente etlike aanskouers, veral wetenskaplikes – se vrae op prysenswaardige wyse beantwoord. Die doel van die uitstallings was egter om veral leerkragte op primêre skole 'n idee te gee hoe hulle hul lesse interessanter kan maak en terselfdertyd bloot lê hoe daar geïmproviseer kan word. Ook is die ouers die geleentheid gegun om 'n dieper insig op te doen in wat hul kinders op skool aanvang.

Ten laaste het die gaste weer in die saal vergader. Teen die tyd het die saal al 'n "gedaante-verwisseling" ondergaan – danksy mnr. Twynham en sy span seuns. Stoele van net-nou is in 'n kits deur lang tafels met aanloklike verversings vervang. Daar is toe hartlik gesels en heerlik gesmul aan die tert, koek, pasteie en dies meer wat mev. Abrahams se huishoudkunde-groep voorgesit het.

Die algemene geselligheid wat daar geheers het, het inderdaad die EEN indruk op almal ingekerf! Die aand was 'n klinkende sukses! Eers na 10.30 het die laaste van die gaste, onwilliglik vertrek!

H.C. FENNER.

THE HOSTEL

Bechet Hostel opened in 1955 to cater for the pupils and students of the College with Mr. Ingle as the first superintendent, Mr. Manwaring as the Senior Resident Master and Mr. Fynn as the Resident Master. The Hostel had got off to a good start. Mrs. Mannering as the Matron and Mrs. Griffiths as the Assistant Matron lent the Hostel a homely atmosphere. Mr. Vollenhoven later replaced Mr. Fynn. In 1961 Mrs. Buckley joined the Hostel Staff as Matron. She is still adding a motherly and feminine touch to the Hostel, even in 1975.

The Hostelites did not lack entertainment as bioscope shows, picnics, sport and popular dances were part of the entertainment programme. When Mr. A.J. Simpson took up the post as Senior Resident Master at the beginning of 1962, music could be heard filling all corners of the Hostel as his Hostel Choir warbled under his direction. Budding actors and actresses got their lucky break when Mr. Tertius, with his interests in drama became Resident Master. "The old order changeth" said Tennyson and so the Hostel bade farewell to Mr. Simpson at the end of 1966 and welcomed Mr. Ontong, the first Coloured Superintendent. Mr. Ontong adopted Mr. Ingle's motto that "A happy child makes a good student". Sporting activities, dances, concerts and farewell dinner dances were a feature of his term of office.

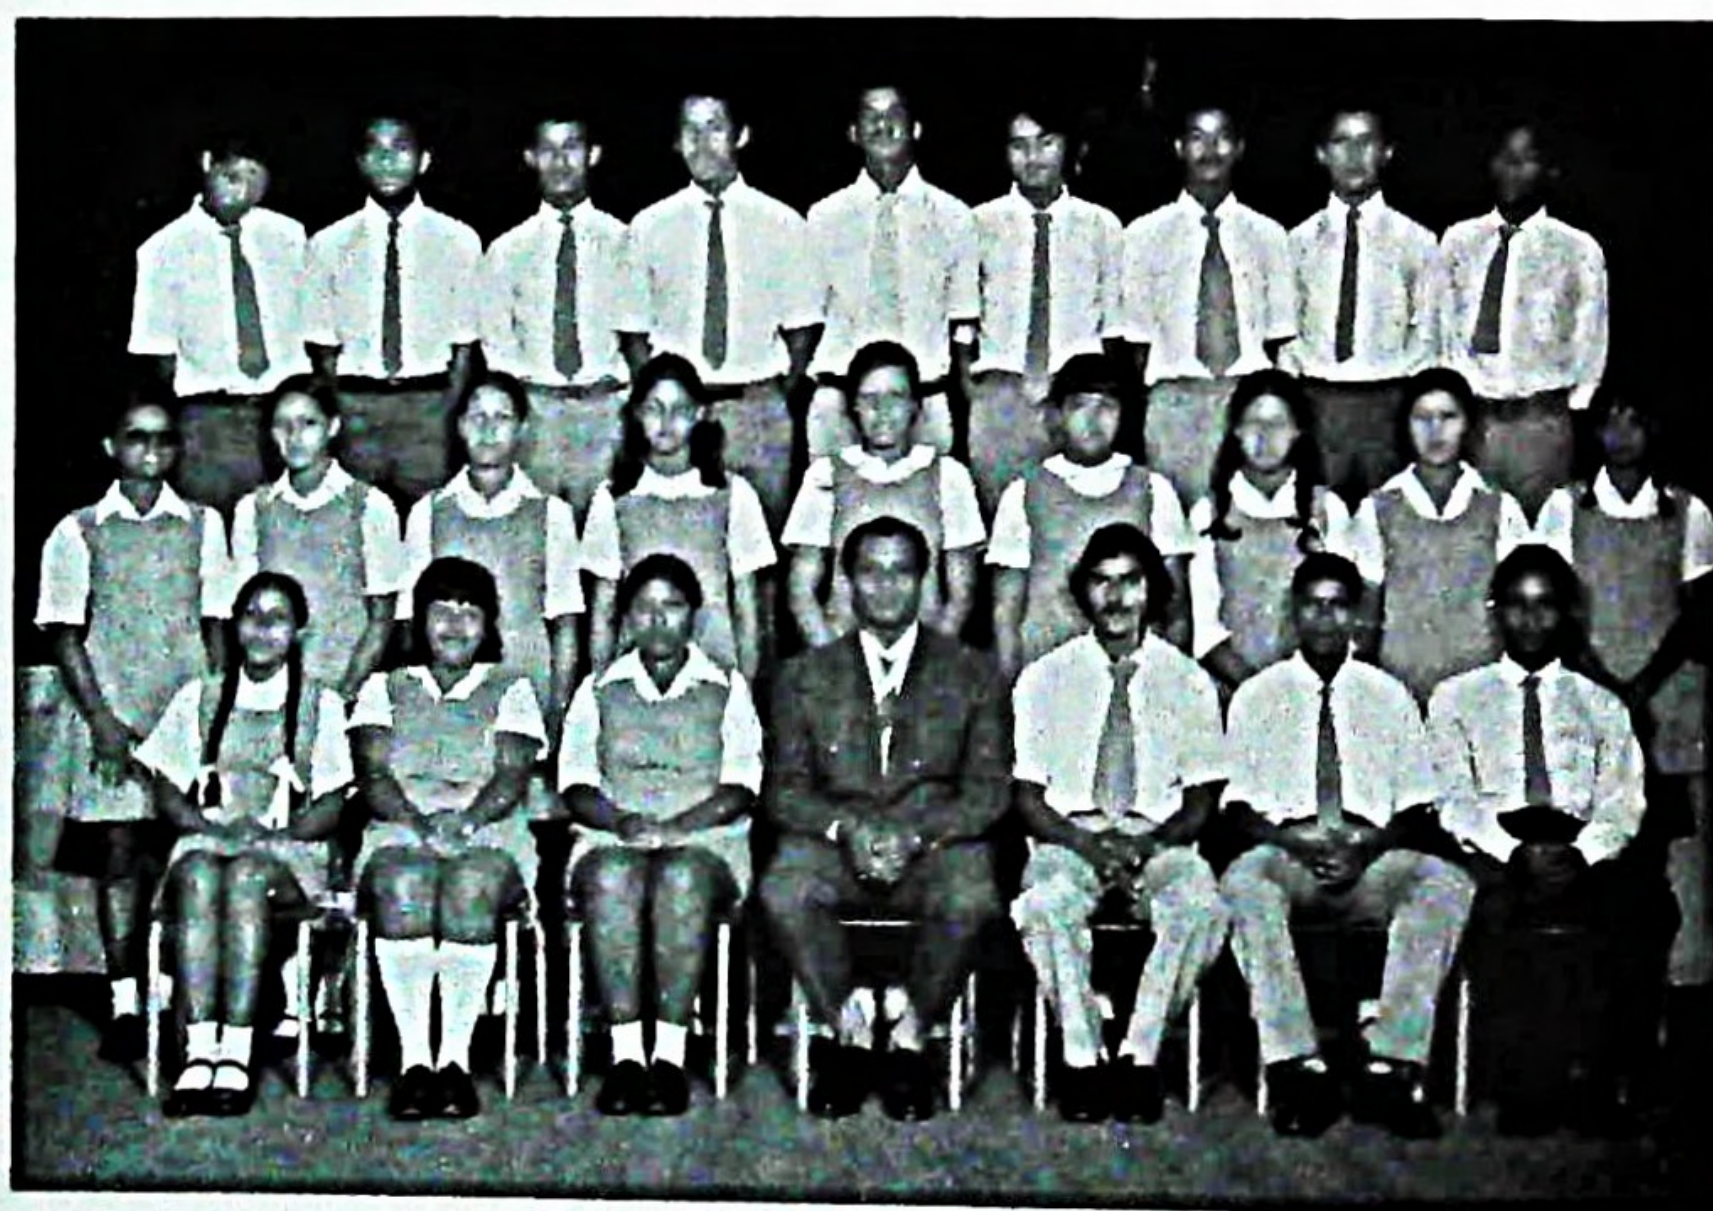

True to life and its continual changes Mr. Ontong's emigration to Australia, heralded Mr. D.J. Thompson's term of office as Superintendent. With the formation of the first Hostel Committee, the Superintendent received some help with his duties.

The students now had an active part in the formulation of rules, with the advent of the Hostel Student's Representative Committee which was elected. Gloria Creamer, Carol Oakes, Thecla Dunn, Ada Essack and Joan Vetter served on the Committee. The present students Representative Committee consists of Maria Kraft, Valerie Lottering, Johleen Fenner, Isabel Ogle, Glynis Sharp (secretary), Colleen Tatchell (treasurer) and Thecla Dunn (chairlady). Their primary duties are to act as go-between the Superintendent and the Hostel students and to organise activities for the hostel students. Mr. Pierce, a fellow student has helped to revive the entertainment programme which was close to extinction.

A change is envisaged for next year. The hostel is to become a mixed hostel once again.

The wind of changes continues to blow and so, in January this year it blew Mr. Alex China in as Resident Master and Superintendent when Mr. Thompson moved out of the hostel in 1975.

STUDENT AFFAIRS AT BECHET TRAINING COLLEGE SINCE THE INCEPTION OF THE S.R.C. IN 1971

Prior to 1971, student affairs were run on a high school basis of the prefect system, with the nomination of Head-boy and Head-girl by members of the staff.

The year 1971 heralded the establishment of the first Students' Representative Council on the Bechet campus. David Colbourne and Esme Burns were elected as Head male and female students.

A Freshettes Ball was held by second year students to welcome the novices. Later in the year a successful student tour of Cape Town, which was primarily an educational tour, was organised. There were other aspects to the tour, such as the participation in the Hewat College 30th anniversary celebrations. Preparations for this tour included fund-raising activities such as fetes, dances and concerts.

The outcome of the harmonious relationship that existed amongst the students resulted in a farewell ball being given by the first year students for the second years. At this time there were no third year students because second-year post-matric and post-J.C. specialist courses in physical education (men), domestic science, music, kindergarten and academic work had just been introduced. 1971 also saw the formation of Debating, Christian, Drama and Music Appreciation Societies run under the auspices of the S.R.C.

The first group of third year students in the academic, kindergarten and music fields registered in 1972. The senior students organised a Freshettes Ball at which Easlyn Young, an L.P.T.C. student was crowned Freshette Queen. The S.R.C. that was elected acquired wider powers and a constitution was drawn up and approved by the student body.

Only students were allowed to attend mass meetings at which they discussed and voted on student affairs. The first student magazine was published in 1972.

An exciting election campaign at the beginning of 1973, led by the PTD III students resulted in Miss Denise Johnson being elected President of the S.R.C. with Mr. Rashad Williams as Deputy.

The influx of married students and the autonomy of the S.R.C. gave the College a more mature outlook. A highlight of 1973 was the first geography and science expo to which school pupils from the surrounding area and the city were invited.

Negotiations between the S.R.C.'s of Bechet and Springfield College of Education culminated in seminars and extra-curricular activities, the most significant of which was the inter-college sports meeting held at Springfield.

The year 1973 was a significant year for the students who had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. D. Rampono back to Bechet — this time as the first black Rector of the college. Students bade farewell to all white staff at a farewell ball held at the Himalaya Hotel. Other activities for the year included the annual Freshettes Ball at which Miss G. Aysen, an LPTC student was crowned Freshettes Queen; a physical education display and an evening of music and drama. A tour to Swaziland was undertaken. Student services included tutorials held for extra tuition to high school pupils. This was undertaken in conjunction with students from Springfield and the University of Durban-Westville.

In 1974, contact with Springfield was resumed and the annual inter-college sports meeting was held at Bechet. During the June vacation, Bechet entertained the Hewat Training College touring students for five days under the guidance of Mr. A. Pierce and Mrs. D. Lubbe the President and Deputy President of the S.R.C. respectively.

The S.R.C. published a newsletter on student activities. A bursary fund to assist needy students was launched. The annual Freshettes and Farewell Balls were social highlights of the year. The 1974 Freshette Queen was Miss Anne Markham.

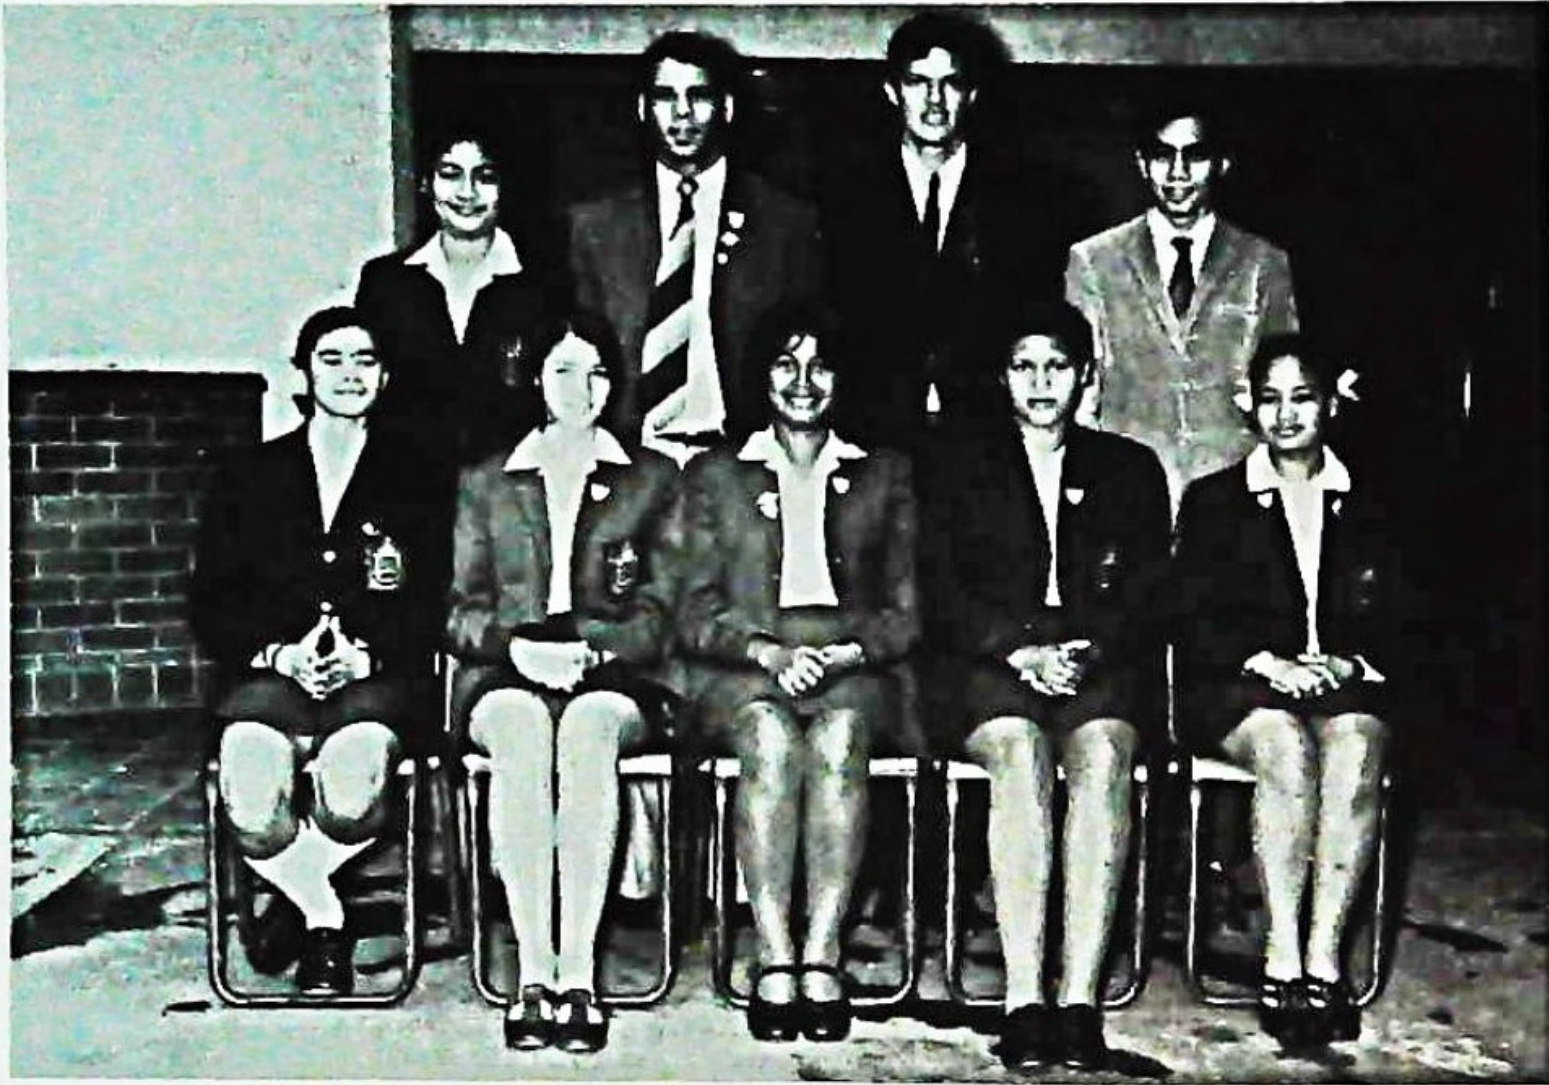

The 1975 S.R.C. elections resulted in Miss Jean Vetter being elected President. However, she soon resigned and as a result of the by-election, Miss Rhona Goldstone took her place. Miss Cherylene Grantham set a precedent in that she was the first PTD to be crowned Freshettes Queen. The student tutorial service has become a sub-committee of the S.R.C. and married women who are studying part-time for their matric, attend tutorials with high-school pupils.

A programme has been drawn up by the Staff and S.R.C. to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of Bechet this year. The celebration had its official opening on the 28th May 1975 with a Speech Evening and an Exposition of Geography and Science projects from the Std V syllabus. Other plans for 1975 include the staging of the musical play "Carmen Jones", a Gymnastic display, an Anniversary Ball to be held at the City Hall in August and the Farewell Ball at the end of the year.

We hope that with the co-operation of those concerned, student ventures will be fruitful.

The Music Department

Music cannot be captured nor contained, and so it was that music found its way to Bechet although they had no qualified music teacher before and during the 1960's. Moving with the music was the itinerant Mrs. Stabell, who, though she only came once a week, sowed the seed of music which was to blossom beyond expectation.

True to musical form, the medley of teachers, Mrs. Gould, Mr. J. Felix, Mrs. Parton, Mr. D. Wesley and Mrs. S. Naidoo worked to produce a medley of tunes which could be heard through Bechet's corridors in the years 1961 – 1968.

After 1968, the emphasis in music teaching moved from mere filling of empty posts to filling them with the best men for the job. This necessitated an education programme which would provide suitable qualified men for the job. Before 1970 there was no set syllabus for music in the Training College and it was a case of trying to do one's best. In 1970, with the issue of a music syllabus, Bechet's music department got under way under the guidance of Mr. A.J. Simpson, the present head of this department.

With Battswood in the Cape being the only training college offering a specialisation course in music, Mr. Simpson and Mr. Bester, the rector at that time, felt the need to institute such a course at Bechet. Armed with the syllabus, Mr. Simpson and Mr. Bester approached the Administration. Permission to have music as a major subject in the second year was approved at the end of 1970. Thus Bechet took its first toddler's step on the road to the production of qualified specialist music teachers with the granting of a third year specialisation course in music as from 1972. Bechet began its firm bend on the musical road to success.

Miss Estelle Herman from Pietermaritzburg was appointed additional lecturer. Together with Miss Herman, Mr. Simpson worked so hard that they obtained a 100% pass rate with three of them receiving first class passes at the end of 1972. (see picture on page 35.).

The music department is not a static one, and so between 1972 and 1974 it passed through the hands of Mrs. Kaplan (nee Herman), Miss A. Pietersen, Miss A. Simpson, Mr. L. Jenneker and Mr. A.J. Simpson.

Not only is the music course as such of commendable standard, but it also has a library of books and records of which it can be proud.

The following have successfully completed music specialisation courses at Bechet:

Primary Teachers' Diploma:

- 1972 – P. Lambert
B. Hoffman
Miss A. Pietersen (1st class)
Miss L. Ryan (1st class)
Mrs. G. Duval (1st class)
- 1973 – Miss N. Abrahams
Miss M. Lubbe
Miss S. David
- 1974 R. Lundall (1st class)
